Continued from last week. We kept on until day dawn At one time we were challenged by a sentry, and were able to pass him by the aid of a secret service man who could speak their language fluently. Evidently we were close on them. Having stopped and cooked our breakfast of bacon, coffee and hardtack, we pushed on up the river. We took every precaution not to be surprised, but the ruggedness of the mountains afforded them every advantage. What to De.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Klimer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing the unsatism, pain in the river a steep mountain lay on our right.
